

Kayla

Hello.

Roger

Have a seat.

Kayla

Thank you. Both sit down Liberals don't get Megyn.
She's a star, not because she thinks Santa's white. but because she'll say it.

Roger

That's right. If you have courage in the spotlight, it's powerful to watch.

Kayla

And she went up 30% that quarter.

Roger

And rather that too.
All audience is want is authenticity.
For two hundred years, Santa is a fat white guy.
They think Santa, that's what they see.

Kayla

Fine.

Roger

You wanna change that? Let's discuss it without you calling my people racist.

Kayla

Exactly.

Roger

A liberal is somebody who wants to live in a future that he is too lazy, or too arrogant to actually create.

Kayla

In my family, Santa's always been white.
And according to my Granddaddy, a communist.
So, that's my family.

Roger

So, what can I do for you, Kayla?
Why did you drop by to see me?

Kayla

The thing is, sir. I actually started on air during college in Central Florida. Weather.
I wanna convince you that that is where I belong, Mr. Ailes.
I think I'd be freakin' phenomenal
on your network.

Roger

It's Mr. Murdoch's air. But I did create it.
I do run it. You have a pretty face.
Stand up and give me a twirl.

Kayla

Now?

Roger

Yeah, just a quick spin.

Kayla

Oh. Sure.

Roger

That's very good. Pull your dress up and let me see your legs.
It's a visual medium, Kayla.

Come on.

Higher.

Higher.

That's fine, Kayla.

Why don't you sit down.

Kayla

Thank you.

Roger

You have a great body.

Kayla

Thank you.

Roger

Mr. Ailes. I'd appreciated if you didn't mention--

Kayla

No, of course.

Roger

I'm here to help my employees,
not to hurt them.
Anything that happens here, in this room,
is strictly between you and me.

Kayla

Okay.

Roger

Of course, it cuts both ways.
I'm discreet, but unforgiving.
Success in broadcast television
is hard, it's arbitrary.
This is the most competitive
industry on Earth.
You understand what I'm saying?
We could work together.
I can pluck you out and move you all the way to the front of the line.
But I want something in return.
You know what that is, Kayla?

Loyalty.

I need to know that you're loyal.
I need you to find a way to prove it.
You think about that, all right?

So, we'll talk again.
Faye can show you the way out.

Thank you, sir.

Kayla
