Seattle is a great place to build a business. I'm exhausted. But I love it.
What're you thinking about, Dave?

David

Nothing.
We kept acting like teenagers all our life, that's all.

Carolyn

Who's we? Me and you?

David

Yes, you and I. We spent our life chasing after what? The only time you got pregnant, what'd you do? You had an abortion because the time wasn't right. That was 15 years ago. Did the right time ever come?

Carolyn

Not the right person.

David

Hard to find him, if like me you kept escaping from any relationship that lasted longer than 3 months. Do you remember that tampon you found in my bathroom?

Carolyn

I always knew that you saw other women. I made jealous scenes, but mainly for show. And you weren't by any means the only man in my life.

David

Uh oh!

Carolyn

Yes, uh oh!

David

Anyway...

Carolyn

Yes, anyway...

David

...that thing belonged to a girl I was in love with, she was 22. What...what kind of chance did we have? She and I? None. At best we could have dragged it out a couple of years but in the end she'd have realized there was little room in her life for a man older than she. Nothing ever should have happened between me and that girl. It was just a mistake.

Carolyn
Some more wine?

David
Yes.
You didn't answer me if you're still single...

Carolyn
Why are you so persistent about this?

David
It's always been the most taboo question. The one you never answered...

Carolyn
I'm getting old, David. The way men look at me changes every day.

David
Don't talk bullshit...

Carolyn
There are women my age, a lot of women who are on these dating websites. You're guaranteed a certain number of dates per year. And you pay for the silence... and...the same conversation every time. I'll end up like that, too.... What are you looking at?

David
Is it possible that this is really the first time we talked to each other?

Carolyn
Well...after 20 years of sleeping together, it's not bad. I know a lot of people who never got that far in 40 years of marriage.

David
What time is your flight?

Carolyn
9:30.

David
I'll take you.

Carolyn
No.
Why start now?
